Mr. Yun Wang has been providing advice in the financial sector at Shin & Kim since 2020.

As a public-service advocate, Mr. Wang served at the Financial Services Commission for two years where he provided legislation support for the Act on the Protection of Financial Consumers, litigation related to market discipline disruptions and administrative dispositions of various financial committees, and legal interpretation support.

As a partner at Shin & Kim, he provides various legal advice on capital market laws and services including on funds, trusts, and securities, financial consumer protection laws, other financial disputes, and other financial regulation-related services. In providing legal advice on business operations of financial institutions, he has been involved in numerous tasks of inspecting and establishing internal control systems of domestic financial institutions. He has also participated in the response to financial supervisory authorities' administrative sanctions, including investigation of unfair trade practices, as well as in the licensing of financial institutions. In 2025, he was seconded to Samsung Securities to support legal and compliance-related matters.
